

Ian Mattioli MBE DL

Ian Mattioli co-founded the wealth management group, Mattioli Woods in 1991 and has held the role of CEO since Mattioli Woods was admitted to AIM in 2005. In 2024 Mattioli Woods came off the AIM market and is now owned by private equity to allow it to continue to grow and develop as it has done each year since its inception. Ian is responsible for the vision and operational management of the Group and Mattioli Woods is one of the UK's leading consultancies in the provision of pensions and wealth management services for controlling directors, professional persons, owner-managed businesses, and small-to-medium-sized PLCs.

Ian is also a Non-Executive Director of Custodian Property Income REIT plc and is Non-Executive Chair of Kanabo Group plc.

Ian has received many accolades for his business acumen, including being awarded the London Stock Exchange AIM Entrepreneur of the Year award and CEO of the Year in the 2018 City of London Wealth Management Awards. Ian was awarded an MBE for services to business and the community in Leicestershire in the Queen's 2017 Honours List. In 2022, the University of Leicester awarded Mr Mattioli an honorary degree (Doctor of Laws). In 2021 Ian became the High Sheriff of Leicestershire which is a non-political Royal appointment for 12 months and during that time Ian raised £30,000 for charities across Leicestershire. In 2024 Ian was made a Deputy Lieutenant of Leicestershire and in the same year also become a Pro-Chancellor for De Montfort University.
